

2019 Training Schedule

---

Details are posted on Red Wind's website at www.red-wind.net, including registration, accommodation information and description for each session. For any questions, please contact training@red-wind.net.

**If you plan to use your OVW funds to attend this training, you will need to request approval from OVW by submitting a GAN, unless it is already in your approved budget.*

Domestic Assault Tribal Advocate Institute (DATI)

April 15 - 19, 2019

Colorado Springs, CO 80918

40-hour training, includes two working lunches

DATI provides tribal advocates with a native-specific approach to providing advocacy for survivors of Domestic Violence. Advocates will incorporate a decolonized trauma-centered approach to advocacy that builds on tribal values and beliefs in providing advocacy. The training includes the dynamics of Domestic Violence and the role of the Advocate, Advocate confidentiality, domestic violence and its impact on children, Teen Dating Violence, dangerousness and managing safety, technology safety, VAWA protections, Coordinated Community Response and advocacy for battered women arrested

Sexual Assault Tribal Advocate Institute (SATI)

May 6 – 10, 2019

Colorado Springs, CO 80918

40-hour training, includes two working lunches

SATI provides training to build the critical framework for Tribal Sexual Assault Advocates to effectively and appropriately respond to sexual assault survivors in their communities. The training includes crisis intervention, understanding trauma and decolonizing trauma, cultural supports for long-term healing
Informed consent, confidentiality and mandated reporting, challenging issues, working with the Sexual Assault Forensic Examiner, and working with the criminal justice response.

Domestic Assault Tribal Advocate Institute (DATI)

September 30 – October 4, 2019

Colorado Springs, CO 80918

40-hour training, includes two working lunches

DATI provides tribal advocates with a native-specific approach to providing advocacy for survivors of Domestic Violence. Advocates will incorporate a decolonized trauma-centered approach to advocacy that builds on tribal values and beliefs in providing advocacy. The training includes the dynamics of Domestic Violence and the role of the Advocate, Advocate confidentiality, domestic violence and its impact on children, Teen Dating Violence, dangerousness and managing safety, technology safety, VAWA protections, Coordinated Community Response and advocacy for battered women arrested

Sexual Assault Tribal Advocate Institute (SATI)

October 28 – November 1, 2019

Colorado Springs, CO 80918

40-hour training, includes two working lunches

SATI provides training to build the critical framework for Tribal Sexual Assault Advocates to effectively and appropriately respond to sexual assault survivors in their communities. The training includes crisis intervention, understanding trauma and decolonizing trauma, cultural supports for long-term healing
Informed consent, confidentiality and mandated reporting, challenging issues, working with the Sexual Assault Forensic Examiner, and working with the criminal justice response.