Why Your Campus Needs A Culturally Holistic Sexual Assault Response

Student/Staff Victim

A student has been sexually assaulted on campus and needs victim services.

Reaches out to professor/friend/or campus police

Having trained faculty and staff who may respond to sexual violence and practices that inform students of rights and services will make sure victims/survivors are referred to appropriate places for services.

Seeks advocacy

Campus advocates are trauma-informed, wellinformed on reporting processes, and provide cultural supports.

Receives well-rounded, cultural services

The student is able to acquire services that support their physical, emotional, mental and spiritual wellness.

Your Tribal college campus is a place that honors everyone's spirit.

Students have support to heal and be successful in school.

This project is supported by Grant No. 2018-TA-AX-K003 awarded by the Office on Violence Against Women, U.S. Department of Justice. The opinions, findings, conclusions, and recommendations expressed in any of this guidebook are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily reflect the views of the Department of Justice, Office on Violence Against Women.

www.red-wind.net tribalcampus@red-wind.net